PRAISE FOR KAMERON HURLEY

- "Kameron Hurley's a brave, unflinching, truly original writer with a unique vision—her fiction burns right through your brain and your heart." —Jeff VanderMeer, author of Finch

PRAISE FOR GOD'S WAR

- "[A] compelling far-future debut ... Hurley's world-building is phenomenal, with casual references to insectile technology and the world's history that provide atmosphere without infodumps ... Hurley smoothly handles tricky themes such as race, class, religion, and gender without sacrificing action." —Publishers Weekly on God's War
- "[A] stellar debut novel ... beautifully crafted ... truly a work of art—bloody, brutal, bug-filled art." —The Ranting Dragon

- “Very original world-building. ... Hurley belongs in the new class of Sci-Fi authors we've been waiting for to invigorate the genre along the sides of Rajaniemi, Bacigalupi, and Yu although each brings different skills to the table.” —The Mad Hatter's Bookshelf

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Kameron Hurley currently hacks out a living as a marketing and advertising writer in Ohio. She's lived in Fairbanks, Alaska; Durban, South Africa; and Chicago, but grew up in and around Washington State. Her personal and professional exploits have taken her all around the world. She spent much of her roaring 20's traveling, pretending to learn how to box, and trying not to die spectacularly. Along the way, she justified her nomadic lifestyle by picking up degrees in history from the University of Alaska and the University of Kwa-Zulu Natal. Today she lives a comparatively boring life sustained by Coke Zero, Chipotle, low-carb cooking, and lots of words. She continues to work hard at not dying. Follow the fun at www.kameronhurley.com.
